

Series 3 Audience Measurement

Prepared by Vivien Marles · 22 July 2026

01 PROGRAMME OVERVIEW

The third television series of Munda Makeover (MMO 3) — 18 episodes — was broadcast on ZNBC1 between November 2025 and June 2026, airing in four languages across the week: English (Sunday, 18:30), Bemba (Sunday, 15:30), Nyanja (Friday, 17:30), and Tonga (Saturday, 15:30). Each 25-minute episode typically covered four topics spanning seasonal crop issues, livestock and poultry management, Climate Smart Agricultural Practices, and Technologies and Climate Information Services. Series 3 delivered outstanding reach, drawing 1.1 million viewers and 2.2 million amplified views — a 35% increase on the previous season.

Focus areas were climate change adaptation, farming as a business, and improved livelihoods, featuring delivery partners IWMI, AICCRA, CIAT, Total LandCare, One Acre Fund, ILRI and Solidaridad. Broadcasts were supported by social media packages on Facebook and YouTube, with short radio episodes in May and June 2026.

02 BROADCAST CONTEXT & CHALLENGES

As in the two previous series, a number of external factors disrupted the broadcast schedule during MMO 3 — nevertheless the overall TV audience continued to grow across all three series.

- Programming schedule adjustment: between 23 January and 27 March 2026, the schedule was temporarily adjusted to align with programme funding disbursements; Mediae worked closely with consortium partners to maintain continuity.
- Africa Cup of Nations (AFCON): coverage between December 2025 and January 2026 displaced regular programming slots.
- Government announcements: scheduled state broadcasts periodically displaced MMO 3's airtime.
- Power outages: as with previous series, ongoing electricity supply disruption in Zambia contributed to broadcast unpredictability.

03 AUDIENCE MEASUREMENT METHODOLOGY

In the absence of industry-accredited audience measurement in Zambia, Mediae commissioned a bespoke recall survey run by BrandComm (Zambia) across six data-collection waves between November 2025 and June 2026, to estimate the size, reach and profile of exposure to MMO 3 among Zambian TV viewers aged 18+, and to profile that exposure across TV, YouTube and radio.

DATA COLLECTION

Periodic recall survey of Past-7-Day (P7D) TV viewers, contacted by phone (CATI) after broadcasts.

UNIVERSE

P7D TV viewers aged 18+ with a TV and mobile phone, estimated at 4.4 million (BrandComm / ZamStat).

SAMPLING

Nationally representative RDD, 300 interviews/wave; 1,837 P7D viewers interviewed, weighted to the national population.

04 ESTIMATED SIZE & REACH OF MMO 3

Against a universe of 4.4 million P7D TV viewers aged 18+, MMO 3 reached an estimated 1.3 million people (30%) across all media. Reach was notably higher among farmers (universe 1.7 million), with an all-media reach of 42%. The lion's share (94%) of overall exposure came through TV — cross-platform overlap was minimal, so TV, online and radio audiences are largely additive rather than overlapping.

Fig. 1 — Reach of MMO 3 by media, general viewers / farmers

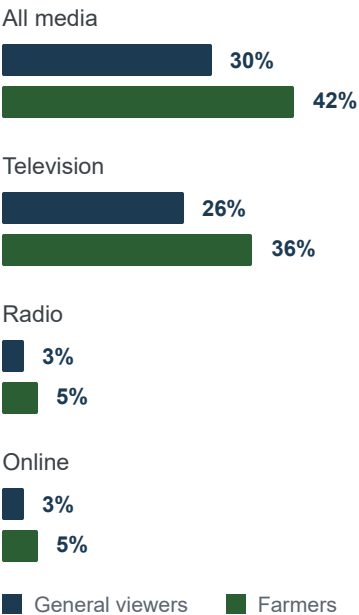

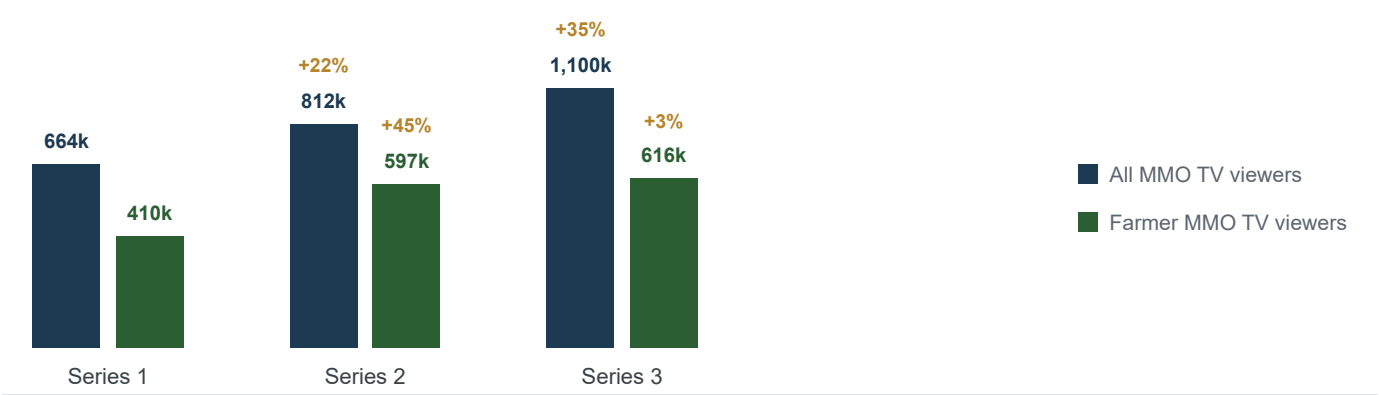

Fig. 2 — Size & reach by channel, all viewers / farmers

Channel	Universe	Exposed (all)	Exposed (farmers)
All media	4.4m / 1.7m	1.3m (30%)	705,000 (42%)
Television	4.4m / 1.7m	1.1m (26%)	616,000 (36%)
Radio	4.4m / 1.7m	150,000 (3%)	81,000 (5%)
Online	4.4m / 1.7m	146,000 (3%)	79,000 (5%)

05 TV AUDIENCE GROWTH

TV audiences to MMO have grown consistently across three series, with MMO 3 delivering the strongest year-on-year increase recorded to date. General TV audience growth (+35%) significantly outpaced growth among the farmer audience (+3%), after a strong increase for farmers between MMO 1 and MMO 2.

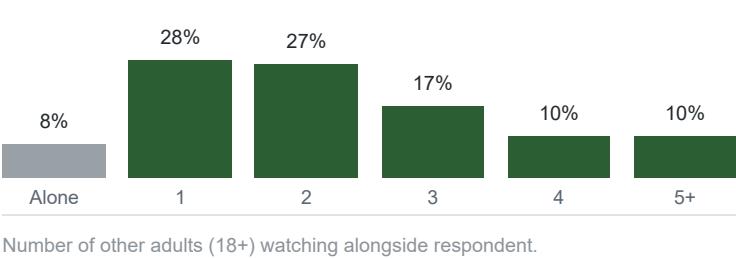

Fig. 3 — TV audience growth across Series 1–3, general viewers vs. farmers

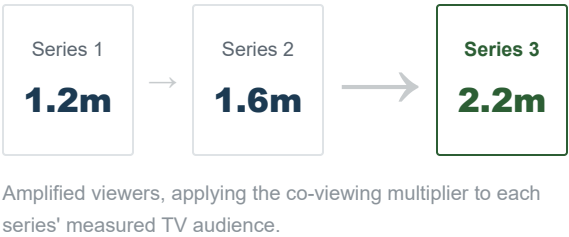

06 MEDIAE'S AMPLIFIER EFFECT

While the recall survey provides the definitive, directly-measured TV audience figures, respondents who viewed MMO 3 on TV reported watching with an average of two other adults aged 18+ — only 8% watched alone, while over a quarter typically watched with two others. Applying this co-viewing multiplier to the measured TV audience amplifies potential exposure to an estimated 2.2 million people — Mediae's TV Amplifier Effect.

Fig. 7 — Other adults (18+) watching MMO 3 with survey respondents

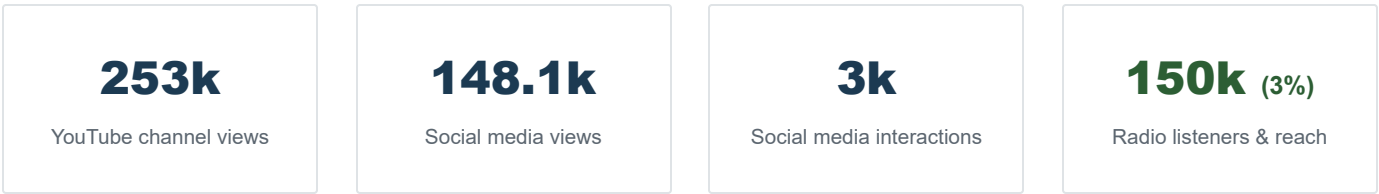

Amplified reach across series

07 SOCIAL MEDIA & RADIO REACH

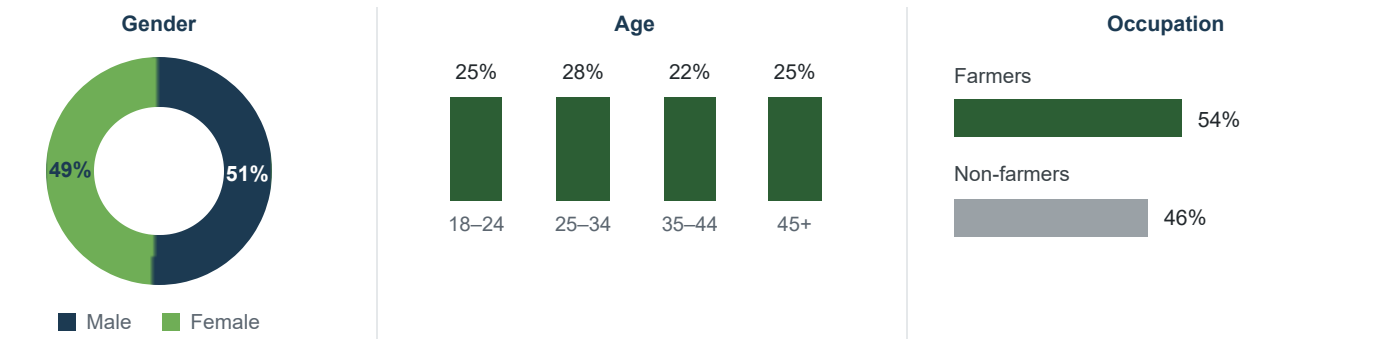

Beyond television, MMO 3 generated considerable digital engagement. According to metrics provided by Mediae, there were 253,000 viewers on Mediae's Africa Knowledge YouTube channel, and the Shamba Shape Up Facebook page, which features MMO 3's content on social media, reached 148,100 individual views and 3,000 interactions. The limited radio broadcasts attracted an impressive 150,000 listeners, a reach of 3% among the P7D TV-viewing sample.

08 TV AUDIENCE PROFILE

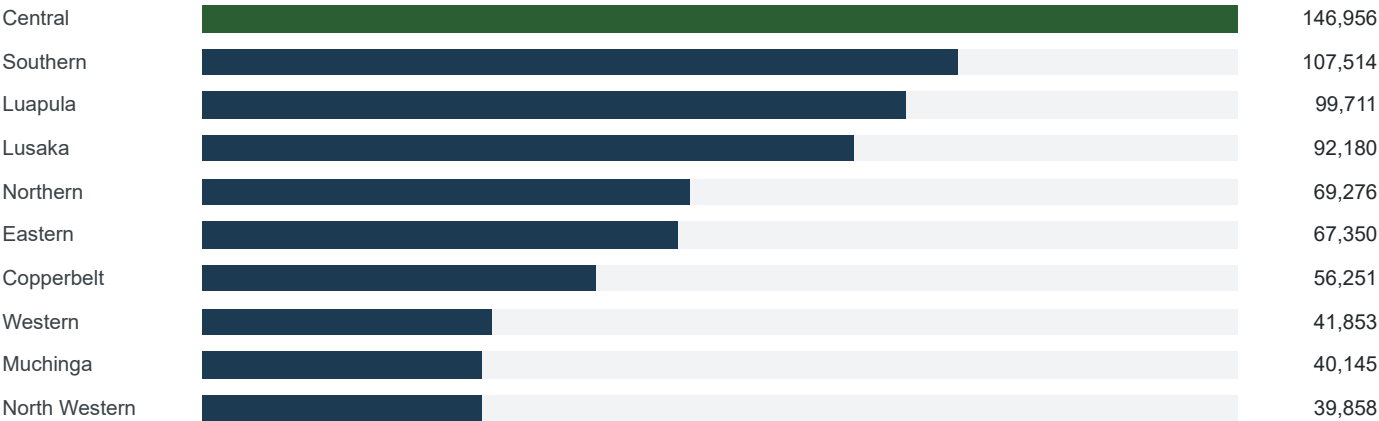

MMO 3’s TV audience was balanced by gender, with a skew towards the working-age population — the 25–34 bracket is the single largest age group (28%). Farmers make up 54% of the audience, evidencing the series’ appeal among farmers while extending its overall reach.

Fig. 4 — MMO 3 TV audience profile by gender, age and occupation

Geographically, the audience is spread across all ten provinces, with Central, Southern, Luapula and Lusaka delivering the largest estimated TV viewer numbers.

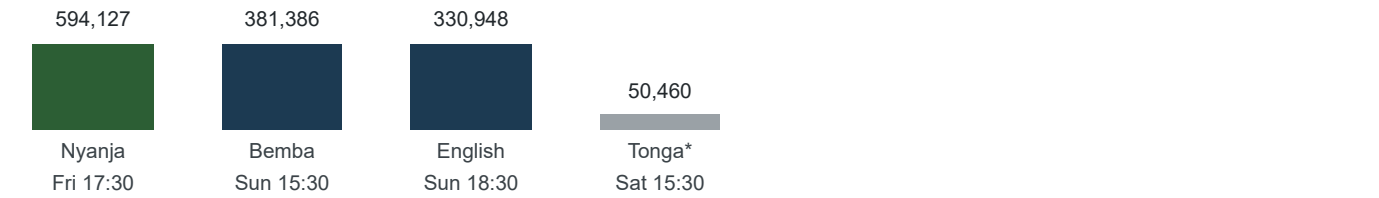

Fig. 5 — MMO 3 TV viewers by province

09 TV AUDIENCE BY LANGUAGE BROADCAST

Language-specific broadcast audiences (based on P7D viewing recall) were led by the Nyanja Friday broadcast, followed by Bemba on Sunday and English on Monday.

Fig. 6 — MMO 3 P7D audience by language

* Tonga figures reflect a limited broadcast run (2 weekends, one partner, six 5-minute segments) and are not directly comparable to the other language broadcasts.

10 SUMMARY

- MMO 3 reached an estimated 1.3m people across all media (30% reach), with television driving 94% of exposure.
- TV audience grew 35% series-on-series to 1.1m viewers — the strongest growth recorded to date.
- Reach among farmers reached 42% across all media.
- Social media consumption of MMO 3's content increases from series to series, and in 2026 radio added a further 150,000 adults to the overall coverage.
- MMO 3's overall performance was very strong and illustrated that there is a strong appetite for the series, which continues to increase viewership year over year.